Heldenfels Hires New Executive, Promotes Another

Adam Mainka, Director of Plant Operations

Effective June 1, 2014 Adam Mainka has been promoted to Director of Plant Operations at Heldenfels Enterprises, Inc. (HEI). In his new role, Mainka will oversee all plant production operations for each of the company plants located in San Marcos and Corpus Christi, Texas. Mainka first joined HEI in 2009 as a Quality Control (QC) Technician and was subsequently promoted during his first two years, to QC Supervisor and then QC Manager. Since then Adam has also held the position of San Marcos Plant Manager. Mainka holds a PCI level III certification and is active in the industry as Co-Chair of PCI's productivity committee and 2014 Chairman of the Leadership PCI program committee.

Dan Visel, Vice President

Dan Visel joins Heldenfels, June 30, 2014, as a new Vice President. His initial focus will be on opportunities for continuous improvement and revenue growth across all functional areas of the organization. Visel brings an in-depth background in manufacturing having advised several Fortune 500 manufacturers and building products suppliers as a Senior Manager with USC Consulting Group, LLC. Visel is a Lean Six Sigma Black Belt and obtained his MBA last year from McCombs Business School at the University of Texas. Most recently he served as COO of Top Tier Rides, LLC, an Austin based startup venture.
